The Advanced 2D Takeoff & Estimating Solution

The Advanced 2D Takeoff & Estimating Solution

RIB CostX Core offers the same industry-leading 2D takeoff capability, integrated workbooks and professional report production as our flagship platform. For quantity surveyors and estimators who don't require support for 3D/BIM or auto-revisioning, RIB CostX Core provides all of the features required to streamline processes.

Save Time and Improve Accuracy

CostX streamlines quantity takeoff and cost estimation, enabling users to swiftly produce precise quantities and estimates without the need for manual calculations.

Professional and Customizable Reports

CostX enables users to generate professional-quality reports showcasing project details and cost breakdowns. These reports can be tailored to meet specific client preferences and branding requirements, enhancing presentation quality and client satisfaction.

Improve Collaboration and Communication

CostX enables seamless collaboration by allowing users to work concurrently from a single source of data. This fosters improved communication and alignment among team members, reducing risk of missed details.

Reduce Risk and Empower Decision-Making

By providing reliable cost data, CostX supports informed decision-making by identifying risks early for proactive management. This minimizes the likelihood of cost overruns and unexpected delays.

Key Features

2D Takeoff

Streamline measuring processes by calculating areas, lengths and counts with a single click.

Estimating Spreadsheets

Live-linked to drawings, ensuring all necessary information can be found in one place.

Professional Reports

Showcase work to clients with customised, professional quality outputs.

Subcontract Comparison / Bid Day System

Compare quotes effortlessly, ensuring you secure the most competitive prices.

Embodied Carbon Calculations

Keep sustainability top of mind while assessing long term energy implications.

Faster, Smarter and more Accurate Takeoff and Estimation

Why customers love RIB CostX

CostX dramatically decreased the time we needed to spend measuring quantities. As a result, the time saved measuring was consequently spent on refining associated rates and allowed us to meet our strict deadlines while adhering to our impeccable standards.

Using CostX on the Brisbane Airport project enabled highly accurate quantities to be prepared and enabled the client to go to tender ahead of other projects that were competing in the same market.

We are excited about the adoption of CostX in our business. CostX's enhanced functionality and ease of use will be of great benefit to our staff and ultimately our clients as we look to continually improve our service.
